

Reading for Pleasure

As told by your teacher's many times reading does improve your spelling and vocabulary, it also broadens your minds.

You also have access to Accelerated Reader, do log in and attempt quizzes for the books you have read.

Oxford Owl : <https://home.oxfordowl.co.uk/>

Highly recommended site with a good selection of online books. You will be able to access some books for your current reading level. But read whatever you choose! There are some interesting online and printable activities that go alongside some of the e-books provided.

Magic Keys : <http://www.magickeys.com/books/>

Lots of books like 'The Gingerbread Man' for younger readers, to the 'Halloween House' for older readers. Just the text here, so you can enjoy some silent reading. There is audio on some books.

Open Library : <http://www.gutenberg.org/ebooks/search/?query=children%27s+books>

For older children, an excellent selection of books to read online. Includes some classics like Peter Rabbit, Andersen's Fairytales and The Jungle Book. Parents might want to help you select one to read.

Classic books : <http://www.gutenberg.org/ebooks/search/?query=children%27s+books>

For pure classic texts as PDF, Word, or audiobook, look no further! 'The Railway Children' and 'Alice in Wonderland' are examples. The older children can get lost in the world of these wonderful stories.

Gateway to the Classics : http://www.gatewaytotheclassics.com/browse/authors_browse_all.php?

A vast array of well-known literature for all levels. It is all text, so enjoy reading for pleasure. The Velveteen Rabbit is a classic!

The Jungle Book e-book : <https://www.planetebook.com/free-ebooks/the-jungle-book.pdf>

The original jungle book.

To listen to stories being read aloud, whilst you read the text.

Storyline online : <https://www.storylineonline.net/>

Lots of lovely stories to choose from to be read to you by storyteller. You can follow the text with the video too!

Talking Stories LGFL KS2 : <http://stories2.lgfl.org.uk/>

Choose from a range of stories or non-fiction for it to be read to you whilst you follow text. Stories can be read in other languages too.

Audible : <https://stories.audible.com/start-listen>

Free children's audio books with many talented and well-known actors bringing stories to life for you.

Early Shakespeare : <http://earlyshakespeare.lgfl.org.uk/>

