LO: Generate ideas

This week we are getting creative - you are going to write the next chapter of the Iron Man! I want you to imagine the Iron Man is in his scrapyard but then something happens. Is someone or something there with him? Is one of the gifts the Iron Man receives perhaps not such a nice gift...?

I have copied the final two paragraphs from the last chapter below.

Chapter 5 – Iron Man’s Challenge

‘Meanwhile the Iron Man was the world’s hero. He went back to his scrapyard. But now everybody in the world sent him a present. Some only sent him an old car. One rich man even sent him an ocean liner. He sprawled there in his yard, chewing away with his one ear slightly drooped where the white heat of that last roasting had slightly melted it. As he chewed, he hummed in harmony to the singing of this tremendous slave in heaven.

And the space-bat-angel’s singing had the most unexpected effect. Suddenly the world became wonderfully peaceful. The singing got inside everybody and made them as peaceful as starry space and blissfully above all their earlier little squabbles. The strange soft eerie space-music began to alter all the people of the world. They stopped making weapons. The countries began to think how they could live pleasantly alongside each other, rather than how to get rid of each other. All they wanted to do was to have peace to enjoy this strange, wild, blissful music from the giant singer in space’.

Plan your ideas

Generate at least 3 different ideas. You may choose to present your ideas however you like, but I have given two examples below. You need to consider your chapter having a beginning, middle and end.

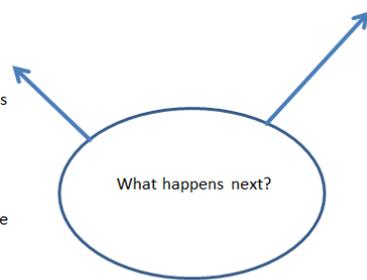

Idea 1

There is a monster already using the scrapyard as a home.

Beginning: Iron Man very happy in his new home. (Setting description)

Middle: Things start to go wrong. His food is being eaten by something else. (Show not tell)

End: The scrap monster attacks the Iron Man as he is eating his favourite tidbit. (Final battle) Does the Iron Man or the monster win?

Idea 2

One of the gifts is from the space-bat-angel who is extremely angry about losing to the Iron Man.

What is the gift? Will it hurt the Iron Man?

What happens next?
