

Thursday 2nd June

WALT: Write a poem about the sea using similes

Today, we will be writing a poem about the rough, stormy sea.

Think about the sounds and movements that the sea makes and use adjectives to describe it e.g. crashing and bashing.

Then use a simile (using 'like' or 'as') to compare it with.
e.g.

It went crashing and bashing

Like a tornado ripping through a house

Here's an example. You could write your lines in the shape of the waves like they have done below.

